WE NOMINATE

Lester Eugene Rigg, 65-year old Princetonian, who over the course of years has become a "living institution" in the eyes of hundreds upon hundreds of Princeton undergraduates. With the formal opening of the University's 209th year just around the Labor Day corner, and with some 170 "engineering freshmen" already promenading on Nassau Street, Rigg—known to upperclassmen as either "Sarge" or "Pop"—is once more holding forth in the Service Building of the University's Bureau of Student Employment where he directs the activities of the Student Furniture Exchange, does "trouble-shooting" for a dozen student-operated service agencies and makes sure, among other things, that eight student-operated trucks are ready to roll.

A native of Burlington, N. J., but a resident of Princeton for almost a half-century, Rigg in his present capacity conjures up memories of the forgotten expression, "jack of all trades." During an academic year he will come in direct contact with some 1,400 students, including scores associated with the University's self-help program, those from whom he buys the following fall's stock for the Furniture Exchange and the campus patrons who find their way to the isolated Service Building—behind the Frick Chemistry Laboratory, between William Street and Prospect Avenue. Last spring, for instance, he purchased nearly 1,200 items of used furniture and last week found that in a single day undergraduate salesmen, operating in make-do headquarters, reported a gross volume of more than $6,000.

Although he would be the first to deny it, Rigg is an integral part of an unusual self-employment organization which permits one out of every three University students to "work his way through college." By judiciously balancing scholarship grants with student loans and job opportunities (the Dining Halls as well as such enterprises as a campus laundromat and an unending list of other service functions performed by undergraduates for the campus population), it is possible for the University to stretch scholarship funds and to seek a cross-section of the country, geographically and with respect to the individual's economic circumstance.

Rigg, an exempt member of Mercer Engine Company No. 3—and with 23 years of military service behind him, has transplanted to the two-story Service Building some of the saltiness he acquired while serving for 13 years as a "top-kick" in the 119th Medical Regiment of New Jersey's 44th (National Guard) Infantry Division. His student associates, both the student executives and the underclassmen competing for higher-paying posts, expect explicit instructions and readily respond, "Okay, Sarge." Associated with Bamman's for well over two decades, and prior to that a Postoffice Department employee, Rigg combined forces with the Bureau of Employment in 1946, just when the Bureau and the University were facing a period of unprecedented expansion.

For deriving a tremendous amount of satisfaction from a tough job well done; for evolving a "give-and-take relationship" with undergraduates that is a definite contribution to the educational process; for reluctantly conceding that "this young generation is all right;" he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

Up to the Voters. The Borough board of education voted at its special meeting Monday night to call an election on the proposed expansion of Princeton High School for Thursday, October 14, between 5 p. m. and 9 at the Nassau Street School.

The board's statement contained one major surprise: the proposed expenditure of $1,770,000 will not exceed the combined borrowing capacity of the Borough and the school district.

The voters will be asked to approve a bond issue of $1,715,000. An unanticipated increase in state aid under the new state aid law will permit a saving of $20,000 in the current budget and the remaining $35,000 can be transferred by the voters from current balances.

Thus the bond issue will be some $55,000 smaller than has been expected. It was unofficially estimated that the request for funds will be beween $3,000 and $4,000 under the combined debt ceiling.

The slender margin of clearance on the debt limit highlights the fact that the Borough Council was unable to introduce its proposed ordinance reserving approximately $250,000 for various public works projects at its August meeting. Legal technicalities made plans to create such a fund inadvisable from the municipality's point of view.

Had the public works ordinance been introduced, the school district would have had to make application to Trenton for extended credits. The board reported that such a procedure would have meant an indefinite delay in the election.

If approved by the voters, the school proposal as now written will make possible at least some additional space at Princeton high by next fall, in time to alleviate to some extent the emergency conditions of over-crowding now anticipated.

An early decision on the plans for eulargement is also needed, according to the board, because several months will be required after the vote to complete final blueprints and specifications, receive bids and let contracts for the construction. In addition, the Borough Council will be able to regain borrowing power almost immediately, if needed.

Campaign Planned. Mrs. Elizabeth H. Cawley, president of the board of education, said that every effort will be made to present the complete facts on the school question in an effort to obtain an informed vote on Otcober 14.

Board members will be available to address organizations in the community which want information on the proposal. A brochure is planned, as well as regular factual presentations.

Mrs. Cawley indicated that among the points the board will emphasize is that the expanded high school is planned primarily to meet the needs of Princeton itself. The community's birth rate shows that the larger building will be needed for the Borough and Township school population within a decade.

The board will seek to make clear to the voters the existing over-crowded conditions at the 26-year old building, the prospect of immediate yearly jumps in enrollment, and the undesirable effects of the over-crowding on the school, both now and in the future.

On the financial side, the board feels that the enlarged high school plant can be obtained by the borough with remarkable economy. Since the sending districts will share in the cost of expansion, it is expected that amortization of the bond issue will mean a rise of 25 points in the Borough tax rate. This compares with increases of from 50 to 100 points in other communities with comparable building plans.

The Ballot at Last. The school election was first set for May 18, but because of uncertainty about the Borough Council's financial requirements and the relatively short period afforded the voters to consider the bond issue, the election was postponed in a sudden move by the board of education. Thus this week's announcement of the election date will finally bring toward the climax several years of planning for the future of Princeton High.

The high school will open next week with a probable enrolment of 1,080, up 40 over last year. The school's figures indicate a jump to 1,150 next fall and more than 1,200 in 1956-57. The projection for 1960 shows an enrollment of 1,500, exactly three times the figure for the first year of operation and 88 percent above the capacity of the present building.

Bamberger's Nearly Ready. Inventory and fixtures weighing many tons and valued in excess of $1,000,000 have been moved into Bamberger's Princeton store during the past week. The grand opening is set for next Thursday, September 9. (For further details, see advertisement, pages 8 and 9).

Describing the process followed to assure maximum efficiency, Bamberger's reports that "the same system was used in receiving the thousands of packages as Palmer Stadium follows in seating a capacity football crowd." Telling of assigning a place to everything from a card of buttons to a 40-foot showcase, the Newark-headquartered department store describes the project in this fashion:

"Working from blueprints, Bam executives divided the 30,000 square feet of space on each floor into 25-foot square 'seats.' All incoming packages were given a 'seat number' at the warehouse or factory.

"As trucks delivered cases or rolling hampers, it was a simple matter for 'ushers' to match the 'seat number' on the package to its proper location in the store. Veteran carpenters, painters and stockmen nicknamed the delivery system "Operation Palmer Stadium."

The store interior will feature separate departments, clearly defined by battened walls, colorful backgrounds and dividers. Vivid accenting of colors will achieve clear and simple lines, with the shades ranging from deep green to taupe brown.

Bamberger's will offer women's fashions from budget prices to the Mirror Room of designers' collections, all on the street floor. Among the names represented will be Adele Simpson, Anne Fogarty, Suzy Perette, McKettrick, Hyde Park and many more. Twenty thousand pairs of shoes, catering to all the family, will be stocked, while street floor merchandise will also include domestic and imported handbags, perfumes, lingerie and sportswear. Bam's Stag Shop will cater to the men with Worsted-Tex, Van Heusen, Swank and other well-known clothing labels.

The store's second floor will feature the Children's World for

It's New to Us

To Boot. Last year we wrote about a summer slipper sock called a Skulkum. We are now about to describe a winter slipper sock called a Mukluk and it turns out that Skulkums is merely Mukluks spelled backwards. Wouldn't you know?

The Mukluk appears, a harbinger of cold toes, on the shelf at Hulit's, 140 Nassau. Ones for the kiddies have Eskimos or candy canes embroidered on the toes; mama's have peasanty-floral designs and poppa's are plain heather wools in a rib stitch.

The big deal about men's Mukluks is that they are made of raccoon fur. We looked in vain for black and white stripes—that isn't the idea at all. The yarn is 50% wool, 30% nylon and 20% raccoon—what the manufacturer calls "cozy" raccoon.

If you have young to shoe for school, look over the new Stride-Rites at this store. Sizes through size three come in widths from A to EE so that you may fit any foot in the family.

Little girls will head for a one-strap shoe in brown or red with an interesting stitch design on the vamp. Can be worn to school or parties. Another red one-strap is a Mary Jane. There's another variation on the Mary Jane idea a dress shoe in soft black calf instead of shiny patent.

Older girls who scorn Mary Janes will like the black suede pumps with tiny black patent bow peeking over the heel top. This same size—the fast-growing girl about 10 years of age—will like to look at loafers.

There is one called Tomahawk because it has a little one in brass on its instep. Another called Little Chief comes in a charcoal grey and has a slight wedge in its heel. Try another child's loafer made in a ghillie style, of red leather.

Boys' shoes exhibit a new style trend; here's one with a broad strap and brass buckle for somebody who hates to tie his shoes.

You know, probably, that Hulit's will fill all doctor's prescriptions for corrective shoes.

Ever hunt for children's wool socks? Here's the Ruggy, an all-wool with about 3% nylon (heel and toe) for only 69c. Splendid for wear with sneakers.

For mothers, Hulit's has a handsome flat shoe in pigskin, in natural or dark brown. Supple as a glove, it looks like the most comfortable shoe in a woman's wardrobe. A brown loafer has a new square toe and heel, and one design we saw comes not only in black, brown and red, but also in ivory and in a blue suede.

Names on these loafers are Maine-Aire, Trampeze, Old Town and, of course, Haymaker.

Hot Plaid, Hot Pink. Colors are warm with a vengeance in new styles at Bert-Ann, 180 Nassau. First thing to strike the eye is an at-home set consisting of tapered pants in a wild red and green plaid with a quilted cotton duster in Kelly with wide bands of the plaid down the front and handing the deep cuffs.

Separate quilted dusters are gaudy, too; most of them in bright red plaids. If you shy away from plaid, you can have one just as cheerful in white (or blue) with intensely pink flowers on intensely green stems.

Skirts and blouses at Bert-Ann are jerseys and tweeds. We found a jersey blouse with boat neck and three-quarter sleeves in stripes of black, purple and hot pink for $10.95. A tweed skirt is a mix of purples, or blues and pinks. It's lined half way down the front and back, by the way—an unusual feature in the $14.95 price range.

A separates set comes in brilliant turquoise corduroy that will make you look like a Navajo. Bermudas, jacket and belted skirt in this shade (or black, if you prefer.)

A fall denim-wrap-around skirt is lined in a Pennsy Dutch print and there's a matching print skirt.

Kilts! Look to your knees, then consider a flannel in camel's hair color with belt. Clan plaids, too, naturally.

School Days. Princeton area boys and girls will start heading back to the classrooms Wednesday morning. Borough public school students will find 11 new teachers at the various buildings, while six new teachers and a consultant in remedial reading will join the Township school staff.

The new Borough elementary school teachers will be: Philip J. Cobb, a graduate of the University of Florida; Mrs. Viola W. Connelly, Mansfield Normal College, who has taught for 12 years in Canton, Pa., and Jamesburg, N. J.; Mrs. Annette R. Guenther, Austin Peay State College, has taught for 13 years in Palm Beach, Fla., and Trenton.

Also, James Lupinetti, St. Francis College, who has taught previously at Lower Camden Regional; Mrs. Dorothy S. Schwab, Glassboro State Teachers and M.A. at New York University, who taught for seven years at Wenonah, N. J., and Glassboro Demonstration School; Miss Sylvia F. Smith, University of Chattanooga and M.A. at Yale; Mrs. Marilyn A Taraba, Fredonia State College.

At Princeton High, William O. Wert will join the English and library departments. He is a graduate of Lebanon Valley College and has taught at New Cumberland, Pa. Henry N. Drewry, who holds degrees from Talladega College and Columbia and has taught at the Agricultural and Technical College in Greensboro, N. C., will teach history.

Miss Mary R. Perpetua, a graduate of Trenton State Teachers College, will join the commercial department staff, while Walter H. Yarrow will teach science. Mr. Yarrow holds an A.B. and an M.A. from the University of Mississippi and has taught at Jamesburg.

Township Teachers. Dr. Mildred Moss of Trenton will conduct a program in remedial reading at the Township schools as a consultant. Other new members of the staff:

Miss Joan Richardson will be in charge of physical education for girls. She was graduated in June from Sargent College of Physical Education, Boston University.

Mrs. Mary McDonald, a graduate of Kent State University, Ohio, will take a second grade. Mrs. Joan Efron will teach in the first grade. She is a graduate of Hunter College and has taught at Rockaway Beach, N. Y.

Mrs. Evelyn Bettes and Mrs. Mary Shafer will take classes in the fifth grade. Mrs. Bettes is a graduate of New Jersey College for Women and has taught in New Brunswick, while Mrs. Shafer was graduated from the University of Cincinnati in June.

Miss Sonya Bendett will teach French at the Valley Road School. She received her bachelor's degree from Smith in 1952, her master's degree from Columbia in Hole in the Ground?

Princetonians may have the rare treat of seeing Lake Carnegie completely dry (temporarily) before many more summers have passed. The tip-off is the amount of mud turned up on the oars of Princeton's crews in their long sweeps up and down the artificial lake.

A dredge constantly at work on Carnegie was a familiar sight before 1941, but it was sold to the Navy for $1 during the war. The silt has continued to pile up since then and even if another dredge is obtained, there is apparently no adequate place where the rich top soil could be dumped.

One proposal is that the Millstone River be diverted into the Delaware-Raritan canal while Carnegie has its bottom scraped by bulldozers and dump trucks. A dry lake is probably no more unusual than Andrew Carnegie's original idea of widening the Millstone to give the University a lake of its own.

Near and Far. Montgomery Township and Nigeria are represented in the week's mail. Lonnie Van Zandt of Skillman returns to the question of the entry of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing into the nearby Sourland Mountains, while a young African boy, Augustine Layiwola of Lagos, Nigeria, requests American correspondents and offers various African products for exchange.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

I wish to thank you for publishing my former letter concerning 3M and Montgomery Township. I read with interest the replies from my fellow citizens published in your issue of August 22-28.

I find that Mr. Partington, Mr. Kozesnik, and I are in complete agreement on one point. We all feel that the area in which 3M hopes to locate is undeveloped and consequently, produces negligible tax return. We agree further that the land has a great potential value for future development.

We disagree as to the method of realizing that value. For many more decades than Mr. Partington has seen, that land has exerted the same appeal to those who were in search of beautiful home sites. We have seen the greatest building boom in our history wax and begin to wane, and this area remains virgin. Surely there must be a reason.

In my honest opinion the reason is primarily that people are gregarious by nature. They like to have neighbors. Our valley, particularly the area towards Princeton, is filling fast. Future expansion will force the development of the mountain area but not until the surge of—shall we say—civilization reaches it. At that time we will see attractive neighborhoods develop there regardless of the prescence of 3M.

Mr. Partington—and the Community League—repeatedly asserts that industry in a community means high taxes. Such a thought is poor logic. What they mean to say it that congestion of population brings high taxes by virtue of additional police protection, educational facilities, etc.

I will grant, of course, that the two—industry and density of population—more often than not go hand in hand. But it is quite possible for a Community to fill—as ours is doing—until you have the high service needs of a congested population and still have no tax revenue from industry. And then you do have a problem!

Our choice is this: If we sell a man an acre of land upon which to build a house, is the community better off to have that man employed within its boundaries or commuting to neighboring areas? In the latter case, our township would bear the burden of educating his children while the township in which he works would reap the tax revenue from his employment.

I fear that I have again exceeded my space allotment. Much remains to he said about the manner in which the Community League members look to Princeton as their ideal. They have even suggested changing the name of Montgomery Township to North Princeton Township. They completely fail to realize that Princeton has much that we will never have. And vice versa. Our problems will never be the same. We cannot wait to become Princeton's back wash or overflow but must face the future, plan to meet our problems, and develop Montgomery Township for the good of the majority.

Much could be said of ex-Mayor Kosesnik's fantastic condemnation of our schools. Suffice to say, that I am proud of the job the School Board is doing and I hereby invite our former Mayor to sit in on a few meetings so that he may make his next personal attack a bit more factual.

LONNIE VAN ZANOT

Skillman, N. J.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

I have been anxious to get your name and address and now I should he very pleased if you can publish my name and address that I desire to carry pen-pal correspondence with American boys, girls, men and women of any age.

I am a young African boy, stationed in Lagos, the capital city of Nigeria, the seat of government high officials and the seat of His Excellency the Governor.

I am 5 feet, 10 inches tall with brown eyes, black hair and yellow in complexion. I have the following African products for exchange such as: hows and arrows, raffia bags, dagger knives, jungle drums, carved elephants, tiger skin slippers and hand bags in sizes, crocodiles skin slippers and African birds.

In exchanging I prefer to have the following American goods: ties, pen, pencils, soaps, wallets, T-shirts, shorts, (size 15½), jacket, medium size, long and short sleeved shirts and wool and knitted sweaters and several interesting books or newspapers, soaps and towels.

I promise to reply all letters written to me in time and satisfactorily. Thanks in advance.

Eagles Plan Anniversary. Nassau Aerie No. 2732 of the Order of Eagles is planning a "Lucky Seventh" Anniversary banquet for Thursday, September 30. The location will be announced shortly and the ticket price has been set at $10 per couple for members and guests.

James Skillman is serving as general chairman for the banquet. Other committee heads are Thomas Fetzer, refreshments; Peter Fiumenero, entertainment; Percy B. Silvester Jr., reception; Joseph Hunt, tickets; Frank Warren, program, and Joseph E. Rauch, publicity.

Ten on Jury Panel. Ten residents of Princeton are among the 50 residents of Mercer County drawn as possible grand jurors for the September term. They will meet at the County Court House, Trenton, on Wednesday, When 23 of their number will be selected to serve.

Those drawn on the panel from this area include Gerald Leckyer, 84 Clearview Avenue; Saul D. Kanter, Van Dyke Road; Harold B. Law, 98 Random Road; George F. Cahill, 10 Pelham Street; Lester V. Chandler, 214 Western Way; Lester D. Applegate, Fisher Place; John M. Knapp, Rosedale Lane; Charles E. Tessein, 12 Dorann Avenue; Henry S. Patterson, Mansgrove Road; and William W. Kling, Princeton Pike.

Bankers Association Coming. The Princeton business scene will present a new face when the New Jersey Bankers Association takes up its headquarters here on Palmer Square.

Long making Newark it base of operations, the association is reportedly interested in coming here because of Princeton's more centralized location in the State. It has been reported that the Bankers Association will be functioning under a Princeton, N. J., date line by early spring.

Pool to Close. A day-long program on Labor Day will mark the season's close at the Rocky Hill swimming pool, operated by the River Road Recreation Association this summer for the first time. Since the pool opened (for the pleasure of those 5 to 18) on July 24, it has been used by some 1,500 children.

The Tail Was Wet

In weather bureau language, it was the tail of Hurricane "Carol" that whipped about Princeton early Tuesday morning. In the pedestrian's language, it was sopping wet.

About two inches of rain fell in less than 12 hours—more than in the entire drought-ridden month of July. Added to the heavy rains of the week of August 9, precipitation for August totalled 6.58 inches—almost 50% above normal.

The storm did little damage here, causing a brief power shortage at 6:45 a.m. and blowing down a few large limbs and trees. September—"the hurricane month"—is, however, the 10th anniversary of one of the big blows, outranked only by the daddy of them all in 1938.

Their parents were admitted to the pool on one occasion last month and that policy will be in force again Monday. Hours have been announced as 10 to 7.

A two-hour program, starting at 2 o'clock, will be under the direction of Miss Anita Stone, who has supervised activities at the pool this summer. A 16-girl water ballet is planned, as are a variety of races, with medals to go to the winners. Prospective entrants are asked to register at the pool this weekend.

While only those with membership cards and their parents may use the pool, the entire area and the program will be open to the general public without charge. The association expects that next summer it will be able to accommodate 2,000 members over the course of a season that will run from Memorial Day to Labor Day.

A Teacher's Thoughts. Mrs. Mary W. Ballard, science teacher at the Valley Road School, has been declared the winner in a state-wide contest conducted by the American Legion, Department of New Jersey. Her essay on the subject "Why I Teach" was declared the best of those submitted by teachers from all parts of the State.

As this community moves into another year in its third century of a proud educational heritage, Mrs. Ballard's thoughts have particular significance. Teachers and parents alike will find them of interest:

"Great writers have presented the past as the rich and changing background of man's actions, powerful enough to stir his imagination and emotions, and useful in adding to the basis of his judgments by which the major decisions of individuals and of nations must inevitably be reached. On the past hinges the present. On the present hinges the future, and only education can give any degree of unity to its events.

"Education is the job of the teacher.

"I teach because I have faith in these principles of the past, and feel it my privilege to indoctrinate youth with these tools which will be the means of their steady and quiet march in the long process of change.

"I teach because I like to witness the development of adulthood; to see the bully rise from defeat and hear him say: 'I had it coming to me'; to hear the boisterous boy finally admit there are others in the world besides himself; to see the conceited girl weep over her folly and take her rightful place among her classmates; to see the new light dawn in the eyes of youth when they have awakened to a new truth and a broader concept of life.

"I teach because the children of today's world present a challenge to me, and inspire me with a new confidence in these days of doubt and chaos. Their enthusiastic acceptance of controversial subjects, and their shrewd and careful de-

New Bam's, completely modern, completely air-conditioned, a complete department store (everything but pianos)—and really a pleasant place to shop!

We've come to town with selections the likes of which you'd have to travel far to find. A grand gathering of famous national brands, the aristocracy of the fashion world, of the home furnishings field, of men's and children's wear—plus Bam's own fine brands and a steady stream of fabulous merchandise from our foreign offices in Paris, London, Florence, Brussels, Frankfurt/Main, Belfast, Zurich and Osaka. And we've brought you the giant buying-power of our entire store group. It keeps prices down yet quality's at the highest!

To Princeton come Bam's Keys to Service—an open door to the greatest shopping ease you've ever known! Some you'd expect from a fine store like this: charge accounts, deliveries, fur storage. Others are the most time-saving discoveries you'll ever make: our Barbara Bruce Bridal Service, interior decorators with marvelous ideas, our Mary Madison who advises home sewers, personal shoppers to help you choose, and many more.

Only one week to go—we're so excited! This invitation has been a long time coming, and we hope you'll accept. WE OPEN NEXT THURSDAY AT 9:45 SHARP! Please—come early, stay late. (We're open next Thursday and Friday 'til 9 P.M.) We can hardly wait to meet you. It's great to be in Princeton!

Those with more subdued tastes will find pleasure in a two-piece dress of acetate and viscose in a slub weave. These have straight skirts and short-sleeved, round-collared jackets. They are woven in greys and whites, taupes and white and some have three per-cent wool to give them an extra tweedy look.

Jersey blouses are made like sailor suits in navy or black. Sailor collars, rib-trimmed, ribbing at cuffs and a white jersey sailor knot at the throat for $13.95. A pleated jersey skirt goes aboard, too.

Open House. Light yellow ceilings, a sky light, and cheerful yellow and grey floors give an air of spaciousness to the new Bellows Shop at 208-210 Nassau, on the corner of Moore St. For accent, the Bellows have used some dark cherry and pine furniture to excellena advantage. English hunt tables in cherry, for example, and a long ample table where mothers can sit to assemble a layette.

The shop is showing, now that it has the room, some exceptional English coats and suits for boys. (There are special dressing rooms for boys, too.) We saw a camels-hair coat with plaid lining for $48.95 and soon there will be English vests in plaids and hunting reds; English coats cut loosa and woven of tough English tweeds.

Dungaree fans will like the heavy denim levis that have been stripped of the dungaree brass and designed like straight-forward slacks. They are $2.95 and there is a matching jacket.

The layette table is in the infant's corner where there is everything from diapers to christening robes (from $6.95). Terry pads with felt ducks are designed for bathinette accessories. For crawlers (the daytime variety) there are suits of Zephyroy, a softer, finer corduroy for young knees. One such suit is lined with a vegetable print. (No spinach).

Coats for toddlers are grown-up princess style or gathered-waist ones. There is a versatile double-breasted coat that can be buttoned to suit boy or girl—good for a large family.

We saw a live model wearing a cheerful back-to-school jumper in dark green zephyroy underlaid with crinoline petticoat. The white blouse has three-quarter sleeves with a peasant touch.

Kilts in Bellows', too, beginning at size 3, and all with silver pin.

Snowsuits in nylon or Byrd cloth come in all sizes. We saw an unusual one with zipper change pocket in the sleeve. You may buy jackets and slacks separately, too, in case legs have grown faster than arms. There are also matching mitts and caps.

Teen girls will like a water-repellent suit. The wrap-around skirt will shed water and so will the alpaca jacket, cut in three-quarter length. This jacket is very popular for this size and age. We saw a magnificent one in brown and tan with a soft, angora look about it, wide revers making a sailor collar, raglans and a milium lining.

What's a Chit? It's one-half of a chit-chat, and we assume this to be the reason the Merrimade people call their small note-papers Chits. We found these in a new book of Merrimade papers and stationeries now being sold in Princeton by Mrs. Mitchell Dielhenn.

There are monogrammed, named in plain informals in various colors and different shades of inks. About $3 will buy 100 sheets and 100 envelopes, depending on size, color and kind of signature.

For Christmas, Mrs. Dielhenn suggests desk pads made with leatherette covers, monogrammed, at $2.75 for four pads of 50 each. Name goes on each sheet in the pad.

In the Merrimade line there are airmail papers, lined envelopes for checks, typing paper, man-size papers. And engraved stationery, of course, for which you provide the dye. Or Merrimade will make one for you, if you wish.

Try the paper napkins in Merritex—a non-woven cotton fabric that will, says the company, "stand up under the rigors of chicken or lobster." Useful for football luncheons, and you'd better order now—delivery takes two weeks.

Miscellany in Merrimades include Christmas ribbon with your name, match folders, playing cards, bridge scores and cellulose tape—all with name, monogram, address, or what have you.

Christmas orders must be in by October 20. For an appointment, call Mrs. Dielhenn at 1786.

Obituaries

Mrs. Mary Bahmer, 68, of 91 Moore Street died August 27 at Princeton Hospital. She was the widow of Nicholas Bahmer.

Born in Hungary, Mrs. Bahmer had been a Princeton resident since 1902. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Richard L. Anderson of Princeton and Mrs. Harry L. McHenry of Coral Gables, Fla.; two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. The service at the Kimble Funeral Home was followed by burial in Princeton Cemetery.

Struthers Burt, 71, widely-known writer who was in his younger years a member of the Princeton University faculty, died August 29 in Jackson, Wyo. He was the author of numerous essays and novels reflecting his fundamental love of this country.

A member of the Class of 1904 at the University, he remained here to teach and to further his writing career. Later, he studied abroad at Munich and Oxford. His later years were devoted largely to his writing.

His wife, Katharine Newlin Burt, a successful novelist in her own name, survives. He also leaves a son, Nathaniel Burt, novelist and poet whose home is on Snowden Lane; and a daughter, Mrs. George Attebery, of Washington, D. C.

Eldridge Smith, 48, of Lake Road, Kingston, died August 26 at Bristol Hospital, Bristol, Pa. For the past 20 years he had been employed by the Kingston Nurseries.

Husband of Mrs. Irene Smith, he is survived by a son, Daniel Lee Smith, and a daughter, Miss Patricia Anne Smith. The service at the Kimble Funeral Home was followed by interment in Kingston Cemetery.

Democrats Active. Two September events have been planned by the Princeton Democratic Club. A registration rally will be held next Thursday, September 9, at 8:30 at the Chestnut Street Firehouse.

Congressman Charles R. Howell, his party's candidate for U. S. Senator from New Jersey, will speak here Sunday, September 18. He will attend the club's annual outing, to be held that afternoon at the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club grounds. Some 500 persons are expected to attend.

The Governor Drives a Tank. Under the guidance of several members of Company B, Princeton's National Guard unit, Governor Robert Meyner last week drove a 48-ton tank while inspecting the New Jersey encampment at Camp Drum, New York. The Governor was taken on his tour of an M-47 tank by Lieutenant Nicholas J. Bartolino.

Sixty-nine enlisted men and seven officers of Company B, which is attached to the 253d Tank Battalion, will return home Saturday on the completion of a two-week tour of duty near Watertown, N. Y. It marks the first time that the unit has trained

The New Jersey Poll

DEMOCRATS NOW SURPASS REPUBLICANS IN NUMBER, LATEST SURVEY REVEALS

For the first time since January 1952, the number of professed Democratic Party members in the state outnumbers those calling themselves Republicans.

This is the finding when today's statewide results on the following question: "In politics as of today, do you consider yourself a Republican, Democrat or Independent?" are compared with the results of New Jersey Poll surveys made on the same question over the past seven years.

Today's results on the question of political party membership show that:

42% of the New Jersey voters today consider themselves Democrats;

38% say they are Republicans.

20% classify themselves as Independent voters, that is, they vote for the candidate himself, rather than for the political party to which he belongs.

A study by Princeton Research Service analysts of the figures showing how citizens in the state have classified themselves in repeated New Jersey Poll surveys made since the fall of 1947 brings to light some highly significant findings that should give state and national Democratic and Republican leaders much to think about.

1. To begin with, in every survey made in the state by the New Jersey Poll between October, 1947, and December, 1951, New Jersey Democrats always outnumbered New Jersey Republicans.

This is all the more noteworthy when it is realized that during the period between October, 1947, and December, 1951, Republicans Dewey and Hendrickson carried the state in 1948; that Republican Driscoll won re-election in 1949, and that in the 1950 Congressional Elections, a majority (54.7%) of the total state vote went to Republican candidates.

2. In every survey made in 1952 prior to the November, 1952, elections, the number of Republicans and Democrats in the state was exactly the same.

3. A December, 1952, New Jersey Poll survey marked the first time since measurements began in 1947 that New Jersey Republicans outnumbered New Jersey Democrats.

4. Through the period between December, 1952 and March, 1954, New Jersey Republicans continued to outnumber New Jersey Democrats by narrow margins. (Despite this, in last November's gubernatorial election, Democrat Meyner defeated Republican Troast.)

5. Today's survey shows that Democrats in the state outnumber Republicans by a margin of 4%. (In the perind between the fall of 1947 and December, 1951, New Jersey Democrats outnumbered New Jersey Republicans by margins of from 3 to 9%.)

6. Perhaps the most significant finding of today's study is that at no time since measurements began in 1947 has a majority of the voters in the state considered themselves as belonging to either the Republican or the Democratic Party—a fact that highlights the importance of the New Jersey Independent vote — the group that voted for Republican Eisenhower by a 3 to 2 margin in 1952, and for Democratic Meyner by a 2 to 1 margin in 1953.

It is this group that holds the balance of power in the state in this November's all-important U. S. Senatorial election.

Here's how residents of the state have classified themselves in repeated New Jersey Poll surveys made since the fall of 1947:

	Rep.	Dem.	Ind.
November, 1947	33%	38%	29%
November, 1948	31	37	32
November, 1949	31	40	29
November, 1950	24	40	36
November, 1951	33	36	31
November, 1952	36	35	29
November, 1953	41	40	19
March, 1954	36	35	29
TODAY	38	42	20

extensively with tanks since its conversion to armor from infantry status last June.

Members of B Company left Princeton for Watertown on Friday, August 20. Since then, they have been working in tank field problems, attending classes and learning the chores of tank maintenance.

The major portion of this week's training is taking place in the field, where the men are on bivouac. Some members of the unit have stayed at the main post to receive specialized tank training instruction.

Youngsters Raise Funds. Six girls ranging in age from 6½ to 10 held a "fair" this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Wood, 25 Jefferson Road, and raised $7 for the benefit of the emergency March of Dimes drive.

The fair featured a magic show, fortune telling, a wishing well, dancing and dressing up in costumes. Prizes were given to neighborhood children attending and refreshments for sale included lemonade, cookies, candy and popcorn.

The girls who turned over their proceeds to the March of Dimes were Daurell Golden, Alice Perry, Adela Sayles, Rhoda Schwartzstein, Patricia Tash and Patricia Wood.

UN Trip Planned. The public affairs committee of the YWCA has scheduled its third trip of the year to United Nations headquarters in New York for Friday, October 1. The tour will leave Princeton by bus at 8 a.m., attend a scheduled meeting, take a guided tour of the buildings and lunch in the dining room.

Mrs. Collie Herron is in charge of the trip. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Herron (3759-J) or Miss Esther Todd at the YWCA. Reservations will close September 22 and priority will be given YW members.

Miscellany. Sons have been born at Princeton Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Mnex, 357 Franklin Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Higgins, Carter Road; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sherwin,

PICTURE your family in a bright, beautiful new home . . . in less time than you think, and at less cost. Here's how you do it:

First, select the basic Weyerhaeuser Modular Home Design that most closely fits your needs. There are many homes from which to choose, and all are architect-designed.

Then, to your home site will be delivered top quality precision built panels and pre-cut parts which exactly fit your plan — without cutting, fitting or material waste.

Thus the framing of your Modular home is quickly completed. The choice of color and materials for roof, siding, flooring, and wall finish is left to your taste. Some plans provide for the addition of dormers, breezeway and garage.

It will pay you to see all the Modular plans before you build. Come in — there's one to suit your needs.

Harlingen, Daughters to Mr and Mrs. James A. Guyer, 106 Stockton Street; Mr. and Mrs. Michael D. Reagen, 214-D Halsey Street; Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Bell, Grovers Mill Road, Princeton Junction; Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Gregg, R. D. 1, Belle Mead.

Banks, the post office and most stores will be closed Monday, Labor Day. No mail deliveries will be made, with the exception of special delivery, and all window service will be suspended. The post office lobby will remain open all day for box holders.

Princeton Post No. 76, American Legion, has postponed its monthly scrap paper collecting from September 12 to September 19. The former date conflicts with the state legion convention at Wildwood.

Capt. Frank T. Gorman, Jr. has been promoted to the rank of major as Operations Officer of the 307th Field Artillery Battalion, which has units in Princeton, Trenton and Camden. He is a member of the faculty at Princeton Country Day School.

Miss Kate Sziklai of Laurel Road will sail Tuesday to spend a year at the University of Geneva, Switzerland. She is a student at Goucher College, where she is a regional scholarship holder.

Bucknell University alumni and students and members of their families are invited to attend a picnic at 2 Sunday, September 12, on the Joseph Quick farm, Newton, Pa. They should bring their own lunches, but charcoal and grill accommodations will be provided, with beverages and ice cream available at a nominal cost. Foster D. Jemison (Twin Oaks 6-0266) is in charge of arrangements in this area.

Boy Scouts of the Stony Brook District have planned their annual fall "camporee" for the weekend starting September 17. James Cawley heads the committee making plans for the event, which will be held at the 9,270-acre Bass River state forest along the shores of Lake Absegami. More than 300 Scouts are expected to attend.

Day Before Night

New York Airways announced this week that it will make night passenger flights by helicopter from Princeton to metropolitan airports before the end of the month. The service is planned to extend from Trenton to Princeton to New Brunswick to Newark, La Guardia and Idlewild.

However, before Princetonians can participate in this "first of its kind in the world" service, permission must be granted to land a helicopter here under any circumstances. The Township Zoning Board has recommended (4 to 1) that a temporary permit be granted to use a proposed site near the Princeton Shopping Center, but the Township Committee will not act on the proposal until September 13. Helicopter mail service has made Princeton a stop for the past 18 months, but the field used has been across Lake Carnegie near the RCA Laboratories.

News of the Theatres

McCARTER THEATRE

First Play Is Booked. Horton Foote's new play "The Traveling Lady" is the first attraction to be booked into McCarter Theatre by the firm of Bennet and Pleasant, whose appointment as booking agents for the McCarter was announced last week.

The play will come in for its first performances on Friday and Saturday, October 1 and 2. It will go on to a two-week try-out in Philadelphia and is scheduled to reach Broadway the week of October 18.

The Playwrights' Company has engaged Kim Stanley for the title role and Lonny Chapman as a co-star for "Traveling Lady", which goes into rehearsal September 8 under Vincent Donehue's direction. Sets will be by Ben Edwards, whose latest Broadway assignments were "Time of the Cuckoo" and "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker".

Miss Stanley has scored in recent seasons in "Picnic" and "The Chase", while Mr. Chapman was last seen in "The Ladies of the Corridor" and "Come Back, Little Sheba".

"Variety" Is Quizzical. The show business paper "Variety" sounded a bit dubious in reporting the steps designed to bring "legit try-outs" back to the McCarter. Its account of a Bennett and Pleasant memo to Broadway producers included the following paragraphs:

"Among alleged benefits are high-scaled house, proximity to New York, savings in transfer, no penalty musicians, reasonable union rates and ad costs, discriminating gentry and 'absence of an obligatory press.'

"It's indicated the latter point means exclusion of critics from 'first (or all) performances.' This in spite of the promise that the house will have local press and radio cooperation.

"This is not the first try by the University to make a go of the McCarter. The house, opening in 1928, has been dark much of the time. Despite ample storage and production space backstage, the auditorium has been regarded as too large for straight plays, and has poor heating and accoustics, and no air-conditioning.

"In recent years, a star-system summer stock organization quit after a few lacklustre seasons. Last spring, Richard Skinner took over booking for the University, but failed to get shows, and took a job as general-manager for Coast theatre owner-producer Huntington Hartford."

Comment. While "Variety" painted a fairly unfavorable picture, there is no doubt that the McCarter has strong drawbacks as well as advantages. The "discriminating gentry" have often been accused of being cold and over-intellectual, and the theatre's board of directors are well aware of the accoustical and air-conditioning problems.

However, good seasons have kept the big house filled in the past. As for the recent McCarter summer stock, the feeling here is that the "lacklustre seasons" had nothing to do with the theatre or the local audiences.

The promised "absence of an obligatory press" has this corner stumped, too.

COMING TO NEW HOPE: Constance Bennett will open a week's run of "Sabrina Fair" on Monday at the Bucks County Playhouse.

BUCKS COUNTY PLAYHOUSE

"The Champagne Complex" winds up its two-weeks run at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope this Saturday evening. Frank Albertson, Patricia Smith and Elliott Reid are starred in the three-character comedy by Leslie Stevens which is due for Broadway October 26, after further tryouts.

Glamorous Constance Bennett will be in the youthful title role of "Sabrina Fair", next on the schedule at the Bucks Playhouse. The Samuel Taylor comedy of recent New York hit status opens Monday for a week and will have three matinees (Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday) instead of the customary two because of the demand for tickets.

Miss Bennett's father, the late Richard Bennett, was the first star of the Bucks Playhouse when it opened in 1939. Miss Bennett, has had a raft of film, stage,

MAKE YOUR HOME MORE LIVABLE WITH BURNHAM Cast-Iron BASERAY!
BASE-RAY floods FLOORS AND WALLS WITH CLEAN EVEN Radiant HEAT

• INCONSPICUOUS
• ONLY 7" HIGH — 2" THICK
• EASY TO INSTALL

The cozy, clean, draft-free warmth from BASE-RAY Radiant Baseboards is the evenest floor-to-ceiling heat known. And solid, dent-proof cast-iron construction gives true radiant heat plus lifetime service.
*Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

ADVANTAGES OVER STEEL OR COPPER BASEBOARD:

1. With BURNHAM Baseray's Cast Iron you get radiant heat—with copper or steel units you get warm air.
2. Cast-Iron BURNHAM Baseray's Radiant Heat means warm floors and walls—only 2° to 3° temperature difference between floor and ceiling. Because warm air rises, units primarily heating the air cannot provide such even temperatures.
3. BURNHAM Baseray is only 7" high, looks natural in your living room. Most copper and steel baseboard is 10" high and looks more artificial.
4. Cast Iron BURNHAM Baseray is sturdy, no fins to break off in later years.
5. Cast Iron Burnham Baseray is a bit more expensive thaa competitive steel or copper baseboards. But on the overall cost of your whole heating job this difference will be perhaps 2 to 3%.
6. Cast Iron BURNHAM Baseray will give you steady heat. Because copper heats and cools rapidly, copper baseboard will give you cycles of "Too Hot" and "Too Cool."

WHAT IS RADIANT HEAT?
Ever been out on a warm spring day? The radiant warmth of the sun's rays gives your body that comfortable feeling. Let the sun get behind a cloud and you are suddenly chilly. The temperature of the air hasn't changed, but you've lost the radiant heat of the sun. That's what you give up when you install a warm air system instead of a radiant hot water heating system. And cast iron Baseray provides a maximum of radiant heat. The warm surfaces of the room give off rays which warm your body like the sun.

radio and television successes.

Tod Andrews and Frederick Worlock, who have just finished as the wealthy son and father in the New York cast, will repeat their roles at New Hope. Others featured in the comedy will include Margery Maude, Tom Poston, Marian Walters, Stanley Cobley and William Windom.

"Hansel and Gretel" will be performed by the Suzari Marionettes this Friday at 2 and 4 p.m. The puppet adaption of the Humperdinck opera will be the third in a series of children's productions at the Bucks Playhouse.

MUSIC CIRCUS

"Wish You Were Here," complete with a Sylvan swimming pool in the orchestra pit, is currently playing at the Music Circus in Lambertville. The musical continues through Sunday night, with "Oklahoma!" due to start its long run the following Tuesday.

Producer St. John Terrell, not to be outdone in the matter of the swimming pool which was a feature of the Broadway production, has had a pool built measuring 10 by 25 and with a depth of five feet. It even has a diving board and a transparent sheet to protect the front rows from getting splashed.

"Wish" is the Harold Rome-Joshua Logan-Arthur Kober musical set at a summer resort in the Catskills. The Music Circus production stars Beverly Bozeman as Fay Fromkin, Jack Cassidy as Chick Miller, Evelyn Wyckoff as Teddy Stern and Kenny Ackles as Harry ("Muscles") Green.

Others featured are Harry Clark, Sammy Smith, Guy Raymond and Lee Davis. Mr. Clark and Mr. Smith were members of the original New York company.

GRIST MILL PLAYHOUSE

The current engagement of "Tobacco Road" will wind up the season at the Grist Mill Playhouse upstate on Route 206 near Andover. The attraction continues through Sunday evening, adding an extra day to the schedule because of the Labor Day weekend.

John Carradine is starred as Jeeter Lester in the play that still holds the American long-run record. Nancy Andrews is co-starred and the cast has been selected from New York.

Mr. Carradine has flown East for his only summer theatre appearance of the season. He has played the lead in Nunnally Johnson's adaptation of the Caldwell novel many times in the Midwest, but this is his first appearance in the role in this part of the country.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Rear Window (Sept. 1-7, full week) has won itself a sack full of top reviews, pointing out that the masterful Alfred Hitchcock touch with suspense has triumphed once again. Jimmy Stewart, Grace Kelly, Thelma Ritter and Wendell Corey head an excellent cast. Stewart spies out a murder by watching a neighboring tenement through field glasses. He sees a lot else, too, in a picture with considerable comedy as well as drama and suspense. Technicolor.

Magnificent Obsession (Sept. 8, 9, 10, 11) offers 108 minutes of sentimentality, sobs and sermons. It's the second film version of the Lloyd C. Douglas novel about a playboy who keeps hurting other people until he learns to be selfless. Jane Wyman, Rock Hudson, Barbara Rush, Agnes Moorehead and Otto Kruger head an able cast. Technicolor.

THE GARDEN

Pushover (Sept. 6, 7, 8), a regular B melodrama full of tough stuff. Fred MacMurray plays a plainsclothesman who goes crooked and tries to chisel the chiselers. He is aided and motivated by one Kim Novak, billed as Columbia's threat to you know who. Others in the cast include Phil Carey and Dorothy Malone.

Francis Joins the WAC's (Sept. 9, 10, 11) is generally funny if you're amused by the Talking Mule series. Donald O'Connor is back again as the mule's sidekick (or vice-versa) and his bungling is continuous amidst a women's army corps battalion. The WAC's include Julia Adams, Mamie Van Doren, Lynn Bari, Zazu Pitts and Mara Corday.

Garden to Re-Open

The Garden will end its unusual summer hiatus this comin Monday, Labor Day. "Pushover" (Mon-Wed.) and "Francis Joins the WACs" (Thurs.-Sat.) will be the first two offerings of the fall.

Richard W. Knight, manager of the theatre, reports that a new wide vision screen, new drapes and renovated seats have been installed and projection equipment improved over the summer. Showings and ticket prices continue as usual.

SOME FACTS ABOUT LAWNS

- To repair the soil, you should fertilize and plant lawn seed now for best fall growth.
- Scott's lawn seed contains approximately 3,000,000 seeds per pound, while normal cheap seed mixtures contain approximately 1,000,000—only a third as many.
- Agrico fertilizer requires three pounds per 100 square feet, while Scott's Turfbuilder will cover the same area with only one pound
- You can really economize by the accurate measuring of a Scott's Lawnspreader, following the scale settings for the product used

Tripleheader Set. The annual softball tripleheader sponsored by the Eagles each year to climax the summer season will be staged Saturday on University Field. The first of the three contests will begin at 1:30.

The American League All-Stars will take on the National League All-Stars in the opener. The middle encounter will send the All-Stars in the Girls' League against Zinders, with the nightcap pitting the Sportsmen against the Nassau Social Club.

The Rev. Dr. William L. Tucker, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, will give the invocation. Joseph Rauch, Eagles' president, will speak briefly and later in the afternoon will present the trophies. Michael C. Kopliner, commissioner, will throw out the first ball.

Tickets will be on sale at the gate or may be obtained in advance from any of the players. Proceeds will meet the medical expenses of players injured during the season. Members of the all-star teams are asked to wear their own uniforms and bring their bats and gloves.

The American League All-Stars, selected by ballot, will use this starting lineup:

Jim Brown of Teagues was named manager, while Stan Swinnerton of Cousins will serve as the coach.

The National League All-Stars will present this lineup:

Vince Petrillo of RCA will serve as the manager, with Tom Proccacino the coach. Lineups for the other games had not been announced by presstime.

The Old Timers "Ain't Dead." Fine pitching by rubber-armed Tom Brophy and a three-run homer by Bill Hogarty gave the "Old Timers" of the one-time Twin-M League a 4-2 triumph last week over the Princeton A.C. Without having gone to the mound this season, Broph held the losers to three hits over six innings and both their runs were unearned.

Hogarty, a young "Old Timer"—he's a member of Lafayette's two-time NCAA District II champions—whaled a pitch from Pat Tidey into left center in the fourth with two on aboard. That broke a 1-1 tie, with the victors' first run scoring when Brophy walked, went to second on a passed ball and came around on Joe Friel's hit to right.

The "Old Timers'" squad also included Jim Carter, Jim Brown, Junior Skillman, George Sickle, Bob DiGiovani, Joe Friel, Norm Hines, Jack Petrone and Hal Chase. Played on Brokaw Field, the contest concluded the 1954 hardball season.

Ivy Group Round-Up. Although individual members of the Ivy Group are often ranked within the nation's top 20 teams, the league as a whole does not play the best brand of football in the country. There are, of course, many extenuating circumstances: enrollments are small—in some cases barely more than a fifth of Big Ten and Pacific Coast colleges; entrance and academic standards are much stiffer; preseason practice is shorter and spring drills are banned entirely.

The caliber of football offered is, however, not only generally satisfactory but presents the closest competition in the land. It makes for such scores as Princeton 20, Columbia 19; Cornell 28, Dartmouth 26; and Harvard 27, Brown 20—games in which the outcome can be changed until the final play. Last year, the season-long variance between all eight teams in the group was no more than 8.72 points and only twice was there more than a 14-point differential between winner and loser.

This week, at spots ranging from Hanover, N. H., to Hershey, Pa., the Ivy Group began pre-season practice. Princeton's squad of 60-plus arrived at University Field Wednesday afternoon, posed for individual and group pictures for nearly a dozen photographers, and departed forthwith for Blairstown, Two-a-day workouts began next morning at the Princeton Summer Camp, to continue until the return to the campus a fortnight hence.

As the 1954 season nears, a preliminary survey of the Tigers' Ivy opponents—Princeton is the only entry to play all the others this year, in preparation for the first formal round-robin in 1956—shows that power lies largely at Ithaca and New Haven.

SPORTS IN PRINCETON

Indications are, too, that Brown and Harvard will be markedly better; that Dartmouth should find itself by November, after a rugged October schedule which includes Army and Navy on successive Saturdays; that Columbia again appears somewhat undermanned; and that Penn will be a question-mark until unwrapped. Material in good quantity and quality exists at Philadelphia, but a new coach (Steve Sebo) and an intricate new offense may take a bit of time to produce results.

In the order that they appear on the Princeton schedule—because their degree of development will have a direct bearing on their ability to trim the Tigers—this is a condensed summary of the potential strength of the seven other Ivy Group teams, with their 1953 won-lost records:

Columbia (4-5) may be a fairly high-scoring team but in turn is likely to be frequently scored upon. Quarterback Dick Carr, who played every minute of all nine games, was the Ivy League's 1953 individual offense leader, completing 77 passes for 1,367 yards. He'll be the main gun, with small but fast Bob Mercier spearheading the running game.

The Lions are, however, markedly short of line strength and are depending on sophomores from a better - than - average freshman team to fill several key spots. Such development is not likely to occur by October 2, the day Princeton travels to Baker Field.

Penn (3-5-1) is busy installing an attack patterned along the lines of Michigan State, from where Steve Sebo came to replace George Munger. Variations of the T will be the principal weapon, with occasional resort to the single wing. It's long-range planning likely to pay off but also likely to mean a slow start.

In contrast to Columbia, the line material (headed by Captain Jim Castle, an end who is a brother of Princeton pitcher Joe Castle) figures to be strong and experienced. With the exception of halfbacks Walt Hynoski and Gary Scott, however, the backfield is depending on last year's reserves and this year's sophomores. Penn's games with Duke and William and Mary before the Quakers come to Palmer Stadium on October 9 will bear particular watching.

Brown (3-5-1) has occasionally fallen prey to over-optimistic evaluations of its potential, but is nonetheless looking for a bright year. Coach Alva Kelley, reporting that he has "known experience and quality in every position," will rely on speed rather than size. Personifying the speed will be halfback Tommy (T.D.) Thompson, who averaged 5.3 yards rushing as a sophomore.

Depth up front is another strong point—there are eight tackle and eight guard candidates—and the squad boasts 21 returning lettermen. Early games will also help tip the Bruins' hand—they play Columbia and Yale before the Tigers head for Providence on October 16.

Cornell (4-3-2) is probably the only team that ever won less than half its games and still took the Ivy title. The Red got the big ones in its circuit as sophomore strength jelled quickly. With another good freshman squad on hand and a 3-D backfield (three deep in every position), the Ithacans are a good possibility to rank in the first 20 across the nation.

The Cornell backfield of Billy DeGraaf at quarter; Dick Meade and Dick Jackson, halfbacks; and Guy Bedrossian, fullback, tops an offense that figures to be the best in Cornell post-war history. The game with Yale, which directly precedes the Red's invasion of Princeton on October 23, will go far to determine the Ivy title.

Harvard (6-2) is no longer the Ivy doormat. Having completed its best season in seven long years and turned back Yale after the Elis trimmed Princeton last fall,

COMMUNITY JUNIOR LEAGUE CHAMPIONS—The crack team sponsored by the L. C. Bowers Construction Company closed out its championship season in the Community Junior Baseball League with a 13-0 triumph over the League All-Stars, as Nick Kovalakides limited the opposition to three hits, struck out seven and contributed a double and single to the winning cause. Here are the "champs" and their coach: standing (left to right) Captain Tom O'Kane, Kovalakides, Ray Cevera, Dick Knowles, Louis Rossi, Coach B. E. Bergesen; seated on bench (l to r) Ricky Hurford, George Cramer, Bryce Chase, Don Gallo, Dave Britton, Joe Nutt. Batboy Russ Perone is seated in front of his team.

the Crimson has its hopes set high.

Graduation losses were heavy, but reserve and sophomore strength are both well above average. October may be a rough month for the Crimson but by November, it will be rough on its opponents. The loser to Princeton a year ago on a last-minute touchdown by Homer Smith, Harvard will be gunning for the first leg on its first Big Three title in more than a decade when it comes here November 6.

Yale (5-2-2) has a sophomore squad so good that Coach Lloyd Jordan has placed 42 of its members on the roster before making a cut. Glen Loucks is the up-and-coming T quarterback on whom the Elis are very high.

Hard-hitting Phil Mathias, quarterbacks Jim Armstrong and Jim Lopez, fullback Conrad Corelli; seven good sophomore backs and an absence of any real soft spots up front, give the Blue power and balance. From a distance of early September, it appears that a Princeton victory in the Bowl on November 13 will be a distinct upset.

Dartmouth (2 - 7) caught fire last fall only on the day it played Princeton. Opening this year with Holy Cross and taking on Navy and Army before it meets Ivy League opposition, the Green may again be in for an unpleasant October.

But, like Harvard, Yale and Cornell—and unlike Princeton—the Indians had a thumping good freshman team, which should mature to sound sophomore strength by November. Third best passing team in the country last fall, Dartmouth will rely on that weapon again. Charlie Caldwell has always said that "if we beat Yale, we have enough left to take Dartmouth, but if we lose the Yale game, it's tough to come back the following Saturday." The Green completes the Princeton season here on November 20.

Summary. With the exception of Penn, which has only Princeton and Cornell on its schedule, every team in the Ivy Group plays at least four of its traditional opponents. Cornell ranks as the favorite, with Yale almost an equally good bet to take top honors. Harvard and Brown could be surprise winners.

Into what category Princeton will fit is particularly difficult to tell, because there are so many question marks surrounding the Tigers' development. They must come up with a new quarterback, and plug several big gaps in the line.

They are short on sophomore strength, and are not really deep at any of the 11 positions, a factor that played a large part in the 26-24 lose to Yale a year ago, after they had led, 17-0, at the half. In addition, they are confronted with the fact that virtually every one of their 1954 opponents will be stronger than they were a year ago, when four of the five games they won were spine-chilling squeakers. The first gleam of what may transpire should come from Blairstown during the next two weeks.

At Football Clinic. Two Princetonians will attend a two-day football rules clinic at Ithaca, N. Y., this weekend. They are Irwin Weiss, president of the New York chapter of Eastern Association of Intercollegiate Football Officials, and Asa S. Bushnell, under whose supervision the event is staged each year. The latter is commissioner of the Eastern Intercollegiate Football Association.

Weiss retired last spring as Princeton High School's track coach after a highly successful 25-year regime, but will continue with his football officiating. Rules interpretation and an examination on the 1954 regulations will feature the clinic.

HAVE YOU LOST YOUR DOG?
If so:
Was he properly licensed?
Did you report your loss to the police?
IF NOT — WHY NOT?
These two questions are vitally important to the welfare of your lost dog.
